DESCRIPTION/OBJECTIVE

The investment seeks capital appreciation. The fund normally invests at least 80% of its net assets in equity securities of "emerging market" companies. The fund's sub-adviser currently considers "emerging market" companies to be issuers listed or domiciled in, deriving a substantial portion of their revenues from, or having a substantial portion of their assets in countries represented in the MSCI Emerging Market Index, which covers 23 countries and over 800 stocks in regions such as Asia, Latin America, Eastern Europe, the Middle East and Africa, though the sub-adviser may at times determine to invest in the wider emerging markets universe.

There is no assurance the objectives will be met.

Investing in emerging markets is generally riskier than investing in foreign securities. Emerging market countries may have unstable governments and/or economies that are subject to sudden change. These changes may be magnified by the countries' emergent financial markets, resulting in significant volatility to investments in these countries. These countries may also lack the legal, business and social framework to support securities markets.
