DESCRIPTION/OBJECTIVE

The investment seeks the highest total return consistent with its asset mix. The fund is a "fund of funds," meaning that it seeks to achieve its objective by investing in other American Century mutual funds (the underlying funds) that represent a variety of asset classes and investment styles. The target date in the fund name (2055) refers to the approximate year an investor plans to retire and likely would stop making new investments in the fund. There is no assurance the objectives will be met.

The target date is the approximate date when investors plan to start withdrawing their money. The asset allocation of the target date funds will become more conservative as the target date approaches by lessening your equity exposure and increasing your exposure in fixed income type investments. The stated asset allocation may be subject to change. The principal value of an investment in a target date fund is not guaranteed at any time, including the target date, and there is no guarantee that the funds will provide adequate retirement income. A target date fund should not be selected based solely on age or retirement date. It is possible to lose money by investing in securities, including losses near and following retirement.
